SPEED OF JOE LOOMIS

Covers Ground by Clearing Ten Feet at Each Stride.

Long Legs Make Him Hurdle Topper of National Repute—Only Athlete to Hold Three National Championships at One Time.

Easterners, when they first saw Joseph Gilbert Loomis in action, called him a "kangaroo runner" and laughed at his "form." Since then the Chicago star has shown that speed and not "form" wins championships. He defended his national title, won at Baltimore, in 1914, by defeating the best of the West and East since that time. Joe stands six feet four inches in his running shoes and his legs are proportionately long. Ten feet a step is his stride. That's the way he covers the ground. Hence in a 100-yard race he takes but 30 steps in flying over the cinders at a rate of 30 feet, or three steps, a second. Striding at this rate Joe could travel a mile, if he had the stamina, in 528 steps. The average mile runner takes about 1,760 steps, or three feet at a step. Joe's long legs also make him a hurdle topper of national repute. He is the only man who ever held three national championships so far as records show, for he captured the century, high jump and high hurdles in 1914. He is as thin as a sapling, thrives on training rules and actually puts on flesh while following the allurements of the cinder path. His admirers say he will be stepping the century in less than ten seconds after he has acquired all the tricks of starting and perfected this stride and that in time he will cover the 100 yards in faster time than the standing record of 9.25 seconds. Loomis shattered his own record of

LITTLE PICK-UPS OF SPORT

New motto of organized ball of 1916 is "Get the dough."

Al Penneck will not do any active training this year, owing to an injured ligament.

They are going to hang on to Iowa Todd, 2:04½, this spring, after a let-up of two years.

John Fleming, the elongated driver of little Cheeny, is at Memphis with a string of horses.

George Stallars, a Chicago pitcher signed by the White Sox, won eighteen out of nineteen games he pitched for a semipro team in 1915.

Ball players who draw their salaries from the deceased Federal league last season say that Eddie Rousch is the best fly catcher in the country.

Mrs. Britton seems to be a hold-out against selling the Cardinals this year. She stands pat on the assertion the team will not be sold.

It is not known yet whether Percy Haughton will use the Boston team as a farm for the Harvard nine, but there are reports to that effect going around.

 OUTFITTERS FOR MEN & BOYS

Have Fatimas really doubled the pleasure of smoking?

Most men say they have. Because Fatimas, unlike any other cigarette we know of, are always comfortable and cool to your throat and tongue. And they allow you to smoke as you'd like to smoke—freely with no "mean" feeling after a long-smoking day.

Men have proved this. Otherwise, do you suppose Fatimas would be making thousands of new friends every day and HOLDING these friends?

Think it over.

IOWA NEEDS LOT OF GOOD FARM HANDS.

Des Moines, Ia., May 8.—Iowa needs farm hands. John C. Nietzel, chief of the State employment agency says so. The rush of spring work is upon the farmers. Farm hands can get from $28 to $32 a month with board, room and washing. Married couples are offered $45 to $50 with separate furnished houses, in some cases.

The State board of parole in one week recently issued 25 paroles to Iowa convicts, most of whom had jobs awaiting them on farms.
